Two Harrisburg Prospectors Use Modern Methods

URANIUM LORE: A couple of local prospectors for uranium did not put the pack on the monkey, grab a couple of picks and start out.

Nope, they're using an airplane and a thousand dollar piece of equipment.

The two men are Merle Cox and Lester Wilson Jr. I talked with Merle yesterday.

The two hadn't said much about their prospecting but there's one thing I'm going to say early: Merle told me that they'd prospected all over from airplane and so far one of the best "strikes" they've found is in Saline county. That's all there is to say. I cannot tell you what northeast corner of the north-north quarter of the west-west quarter of what section it is in because I do not know.

Here is how the Cox-Wilson team operates:

Wilson goes up in his airplane with a companion. They have a scintillator that has a range of 1,800 feet and a map. When the scintillator, which, as we mentioned yesterday, is much more sensitive than a Geiger counter, starts acting up the spot is pin-pointed on the map. Then Cox visits the place by ground and gives the spot the ol' Geiger Counter-Scintillator one-two.

"We use the latest methods and the most modern equipment," Cox told me.

Cox explained to me that the instruments will give a test only a couple of feet below the surface and that if he is interested in runs deeper, he sends in a diamond core driller.

The two of them have under lease 104 acres close to Hicks Dome, Cox said.

He explained that what uranium prospectors look for is "pitch blonde," a very dark rock.

"This has the best reaction," he stated. "You can find it in shales, sandrocks and any other rock, too, but so far the pitch blonde has been the best."

He said the best deposits of pitch blonde have been found at Bear Creek, Canada, on the Belgian Congo and in Czechoslovakia.

THE BIRD: This is a far cry from uranium, but good:

A photo of a tablecloth made by Mrs. Katherine Jureccka of Harrisburg Route 1 will appear in the March issue of Woman's Day, the A & P grocery magazine.

This tablecloth, with bird design, was a trophy winner at the Saline county fair.

Mrs. Jureccka received $50 from the magazine for the use of her tablecloth for a picture. The cloth was shipped to the magazine headquarters for photography.

The date, February 27, has an added meaning to the pastor. It was 15 years ago on that Sunday afternoon that he was ordained to the gospel ministry in the First Baptist church in Harrisburg, Illinois."

J. H. Hanks, 51,
Former Resident,
Dies in Cleveland

John Henry Hanks, 51, former resident of Harrisburg, died today at 2:30 a. m. in Cleveland, Ohio, where he had been living for the past 15 years. He underwent surgery Feb. 18 for a ruptured appendix.

He was born in Success, Ark., and was a welder by occupation.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Nancy Sheldor, Harrisburg, his wife, Anna; a daughter, Mrs. K. C. (Dorothy) Rogers; a brother, Joe Hanks of Harrisburg, and a half sister, Mrs. Richard (Helen) Beam, Harrisburg, and two half brothers, Jesse Sheldor, Chicago, and Guy Sheldor of Pontiac, Mich.

The body will arrive Sunday morning on the New York Central and will lie in state at the Gaskins funeral home. The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church with burial in Sunet Lawn cemetery.

Gov. Stratton Boosts Franklin Lake Project

State Engineer To Study 13,000- Acre Proposal

SPRINGFIELD (UPI) — The state government next week will send an engineer to study a 13,000-acre lake project on the Big Muddy River in Franklin County.

Plans for the 50-year-old dream of development of the Big Muddy to give southern Illinois a water supply for industry were given a boost Thursday by Gov. William

G. Stratton.

Trustees of the Rend Lake conservancy district, created to develop the lake, accompanied by Rep. Bert Baker Jr. (D-Benton), called on Stratton to ask his aid.

Stratton said he had called for the establishment of such water conservation districts in his address to the Legislature and "I think we should do anything we can to help you."

The Three Possibilities

The governor then mentioned these possibilities:

1. Immediate consultation with public works and waterways officials to see what technical help those agencies could offer.

2. Legislation this session that would help the conservancy district start its project and "encourage more of this sort of thing."

3. Efforts to get increased federal aid under programs for developing water resources.

Asked by Baker if the state could appropriate enough funds for a preliminary engineering survey, Stratton said he would know only after getting more information on what that would cost. He sent the delegation to meet with Asst. Public Works Director Troy A. Kost and Waterways Chief Engineer Thomas B. Casey.

Casey said he would send an engineer to inspect the proposed lake site "within a week."

Asked if he could then estimate the cost of the preliminary survey, Casey said "I think I can give you that."

Baker said he plans to introduce legislation for an appropriation to cover this survey.

Water Supply Benefits

Hal D. Brown, Benton, counsel for the conservancy district, said the lake would bring industrial and public water supply benefits to all of southern Illinois, and give the area needed recreational facilities.

The conservancy district was created Jan. 8, with voters from 12 Franklin County townships and 6 Jefferson County townships voting for it 2-1. The proposed lake would hold an estimated 40 billion gallons of water and draw from a 10-county watershed.

Engineers for private business have estimated the entire project—including land acquisition and construction of the dam—would cost 1.2 million dollars.

The district trustees said the land that would be covered by the lake contains some good farm land but is mostly rough country with scrub growth. There are no cemeteries or towns on the lake site and it is sparsely populated.

The lake would be 1½ times as large as Crab Orchard Lake. The dam would be built at a place called "Sugar Bluff" north of the abandoned mining community of Rend City.

The trustees emphasized they do not want federal government control of the lake so it cannot be used for private business, industry and recreation, but want to keep strict control.

The trustees who met with Stratton were John D. Douglas, Benton, president; Charles J. Covington, Mount Vernon, secretary; Frank Coffman, Ina, treasurer, and members: Angelo Bioni, Christopher Kenneth Cockrum, Sesser, and Robert N. Clemons, West Frankfort.

Death Takes Jesse J. Lee, 23

Jesse J. Lee, 23, husband of the former Miss Wanda Spurlock, 412 West Raymond, died yesterday at 10:10 p. m. in the Veterans hospital in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Lee was an auto mechanic and was a veteran of the Korean War.

Besides his wife, he leaves two brothers, Clifford Lee of Arnold, Mo., and Dale Lee; one sister, Miss June Lee, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lee, all of St. Louis, Mo.

The funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Sloan Street General Baptist church. Rev. Ned Sutton will officiate, and burial will be in Sunset Gardens cemetery attended by military rites of the American Legion.

The body will be returned by the Gibbons funeral service to the residence to lie in state until funeral time.

Way of Aggressors Made Harder, Dulles Tells Final Session of SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told the final session of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization nations today "the way of the aggressor has been made harder" by SEATO's urgent efforts to bring peace to Asia.

Dulles said that while the talks had made it clear the treaty area has specific problems, "there is also a close connection between the dangers here and elsewhere and a need for capabilities which must be mobile if they are effective to deter aggression."

He had told the conference earlier the United States forces in the Pacific are now more powerful with their atomic weapons than they were at the height of the war.

The emphasis at the meeting was on the problems of the SEATO nations, but Dulles took time to discuss the critical Formosa crisis with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Australian Foreign Minister R. G. Casey.

Informed sources said Casey had worked hard to bring Dulles and Eden "closer together" on the Formosa issue. It was known Casey favored a strong anti-Communist stand and that "something of a substantive nature must be done quickly."

The meeting closed today with a message of "cordial greetings" to the Asian-African conference to be held in Indonesia next April.

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today that Nationalist China should evacuate Quemoy and Matsu islands, just off the Red China coast, as the indispensable first step toward any Formosan settlement.

Nehru said this necessity is "generally recognized by the countries of the West."

He described the Nationalist occupation of Quemoy and Matsu, which block the Communist ports of Amoy and Foochow, as "intolerable."

Nehru told the Indian Parliament that no country could be expected to allow an enemy force to occupy islands within a few miles of its mainland.

The Indian prime minister was sharply critical of the new Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and other Asian and Middle Eastern military pacts.

"There is no sense in having such pacts in the nuclear age," he said. "They are like threats."

World Day of Prayer Services

In 125 Nations

NEW YORK (UPI) — "May each one of us become more aware of the needs of people everywhere—the lonely, the hungry, the cold, the homeless, those who suffer from the iniquities of man. Help us to reach out to them in love and to feel a deep sense of kinship."

With these words, in more than 1,000 languages and dialects, Christians around the world this first Friday in Lent celebrated a World Day of Prayer begun 68 years ago by a small group of Brooklyn women.

Twining, along with Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott, briefed the Senate Armed Services committee Thursday on the Air Force's program, including development of guided missiles. Such missiles' names of the future as Atlas, Snark, Bomarc and Falcon were cast before the senators, who admittedly were impressed.

Briefings Continue Today

The committee continued its closed-door briefings today with testimony from Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas and Adm. Robert P. Carney, chief of naval operations.

The Atlas is an example of the rocket-powered missile of the future which would be able to cover a 5,000 mile range in a matter of minutes and come crashing down from outer space on its target at speeds of 10,000 miles per hour.

The missile would be aimed something like an artillery shell, and research experts believe they can perfect the guidance so it will hit within a 20-mile circle. With an atomic or hydrogen warhead, this would be sufficient accuracy.

PTA Founders' Day Program Monday Night

Patrons of the Harrisburg City Schools are looking forward to the annual PTA Founders' Day program to be held at the McKinley school, Monday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p. m. For many years Harrisburg PTA units have joined in making this annual event an important feature of the school year. It is the only PTA program scheduled for the month of February.

Rev. J. D. McCarty, pastor of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, will give the invocation to open the program. The featured speaker will be John W. Allen of the Southern Illinois university faculty. He is well known as an historian and will talk on "Pioneer Schools in Southern Illinois." The Harrisburg City Schools band, under the direction of W. W. Chunn, will present a short concert.

Russell Malan, superintendent of the Harrisburg schools, will talk briefly on the rebuilding of the facilities of the Junior high school. Attendance awards and past presidents pins will be presented by C. Dwan Fritch, president of the Harrisburg PTA City Council.

The council, working with the principals of the various schools, planned the program.

The body will be returned by the Gibbons funeral service to the residence to lie in state until funeral time.

Open Crucial Disarmament Talks in Britain

Delegates Reminded Of Imperative Need To Avoid Atomic War

LONDON (UPI) — The United States and its Western Allies today opened a crucial East-West disarmament conference with Russia amid sharp British reminders that there is "imperative need" for agreement to avoid the threat of atomic war.

British Minister of State Anthony Nutting told delegates of the United States, Russia, France and Canada at the opening session:

"All mankind will agree that there is no hope of attaining real and lasting peace without real, all-round disarmament."

Nutting delivered the official welcoming speech to the delegates who included stony-faced Russians Andrei Gromyko and Jacob Malik.

Newsmen were excluded from the conference room after Nutting's opening statement. A U. N. official said a brief communiqué would be issued at the end of the first session.

The dread power of nuclear and thermonuclear weapons hung over the conference: The United States just exploded a series of nuclear weapons in Nevada; Britain just announced it will build the H-bomb; Russia said it had outstripped the United States in H-bomb production.

Neutrality was restored by the countries of the West.

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has surrendered Nanchi, his northernmost outpost island, to the Communists without a fight but has issued orders to his troops on Quemoy and Matsu islands to "fight to the death" in their defense.

Premier O. K. Yui told anxious Nationalist legislators that a point has been reached now from which there can be no further retreats.

He said Chiang has ordered Quemoy and Matsu — both located just off the Red China coast and approximately 100 miles from Formosa — defended to the last man if they are attacked.

Military authorities said Chiang, after following American advice in the evacuation of the Tachen Islands and Nanchi, expects the United States to give strong support if the Reds move against his two remaining island strongholds.

Nanchi was Chiang's northernmost outpost and its loss cleared within two weeks half of a 300-mile coastline which he once dominated with his island stronghold. He still holds a 150-mile line from Tsinshan in the north to Quemoy in the south and it was seriously threatened.

The Nationalist air force announced it had carried out a heavy bombing attack against a new enemy buildup threatening Matsu Island, a few miles below Yinchan and one of the two major defense posts still left. The other is Quemoy.

Chiang four Red Ships Sunken

The air force said its bombers sank four Communist ships near Nanchi and quoted its pilots as saying they started "great fires" among Communist troop installations on the island.

Premier O. K. Yui reassured worried lawmakers that "we will definitely defend Quemoy and Matsu." He did not elaborate.

The Communists were eyeing both Matsu and Quemoy and building up forces on the nearby mainland, according to military sources. If the Reds attacked they would be faced with a choice between my family and my newspaper."

Gore charged that McCarthy supporters in Sault Ste. Marie have "driven a tough wedge of hatred into the House."

He said he was "faced with a choice between my family and my newspaper."

Gore, a onetime McCarthy supporter, gained national prominence about a year ago when he formed a state-wide "Joe Must Go" Club to force McCarthy to run again for his Senate

A Man of Action

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
France's newest cabinet crisis is more than ordinarily regrettable, even for a free world grown accustomed to the ups and downs of French politics.

When, after a long series of shaky governments, the dynamic Pierre Mendes-France assumed the premiership last June, there was a feeling that "this time it will be different."

It was. For the first time in years, France got real action. Mendes-France promised to end the Indo-China war in a month, and he did. He pressed the long-delayed European Defense Community pact to a vote in the French Parliament, and after its rejection joined in signing the substitute Paris agreements and driving them through the Assembly. They would bring Germany into NATO.

Mendes-France had other ambitious plans for dealing with various domestic difficulties and the thorny problem of his country's ties with colonial North Africa. Persistently, even ruthlessly, he pursued solutions.

Yet there was a basic flaw in this heartening portrait of activity. Mendes-France was skating hard, but he was always skating on thin ice.

Though he had support from elements of many parties, he commanded no party. At the start, he had been a coalition of desperation. Frightened and weary of their own weakness, the French had turned to the "man of action" almost as a last resort. But the mood could not be sustained.

As Mendes-France drove on, his parliamentary supporters fell away. The old reluctance to grapple with real solutions reassured itself. Increasingly, his plans met with resistance. Still, the controversial premier insisted on trying to give his country the kind of government he'd promised, the only kind he thought would save it as a world power.

In the end, habitual French attitudes triumphed. On the issue of his North African policies, Mendes-France went down.

A new premier hardly can hope to be more active than he, though conceivably the newcomer's parliamentary backing may be broader and more solid. For the sake of France and the free world, we must pray for at least that much.

Mendes-France's contribution to his nation may be questioned by some, but there is no doubt he gave the French people a taste of action. Our greatest hope should be that, in spite of this evident victory of their old weakness, they find in retrospect that they liked the taste.

For until the French accept action as a steady way of life, the Western chain of strength against hostile forces will have one frail link.

Washington Ponders Motives Behind Afro-Asian Meeting

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Central African Federation. Washington representatives of some of the 30 African and Asian nations invited to a conference at Bandung, Indonesia, April 18-24, are having a hard time trying to calm down American fears that there is some hidden, ulterior motive behind it all.

Since the five Colombo powers that promoted this conference have been vague about their agenda, it has been a natural for wide speculation. These Colombo powers, by the way, must not be confused with the Colombo Plan countries, which include Britain, Canada and the United States in a scheme for technical assistance and economic development for underdeveloped countries.

The five Colombo powers are India, Ceylon, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia. Their prime ministers met first a year ago in the Ceylonese capital to search for a formula to end the fighting in Indo-China.

That effort failed, but the meeting led to plans for the Afro-Asian conference. Dr. Ali Sastroamidjojo, premier of Indonesia and her former Washington ambassador, is generally considered father of the conference and his government will host. How many countries will attend or decline is still unknown.

Talbott Says U. S. Will Have 2-Hour Warning of Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott said today the nation soon will be able to count on at least two hours advance warning of enemy air attack.

He said the Air Force is putting "maximum effort" into construction of a distant-early-warning (DEW) line stretching across northern Canada from Alaska to Greenland.

When this is combined with other radar warning networks, Talbott said "we can expect a minimum of two hours" warning of any attacking force.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, said that during the past year "considerable progress" has been made in improving the nation's air defense capability. "In the near future we expect our aircraft control and warning systems to improve considerably," Twining added.

Testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee, Talbott and Twining said the U. S. Air Force, building toward a 137-wing force by mid-1957, is superior in quality if not in numbers to Russia's air force.

From Asia: North Viet Minh and South Viet Nam, Communist China, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, Nepal, Japan and the Philippine Islands.

Since the 30 invited countries have a total population of over a billion and a quarter — half the world total — it has been assumed by some observers that this was the first step toward creation of a new power bloc. This is denied. There is said to be no plan to form a permanent group like the Organization of American States or the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, even though such regional alliances are authorized in the United Nations charter.

Since a majority of the races represented are brown, black and yellow, it has been said this was an anti-white movement. This is denied with the statement that many people of India and the Middle Eastern countries are of Caucasian origin and blood.

THE AFRO-ASIAN CONFERENCE has also been considered anti-western. In answer to this, it is pointed out that Turkey, Iran, Iraq, Pakistan, Thailand, the Philippines and even Japan are closely associated with western alliances.

Because Communist China and Communist Viet Minh have been invited, it had been charged that the Bandung conference would be a mere sounding board for Red propaganda, dominated by Chou En-lai.

This is a particularly annoying charge to representatives of some of the sponsoring nations. The Communist countries will be only two, they say. Definitely anti-Communist countries include Turkey, Pakistan, Iran, Ethiopia and Thailand.

Another charge is that this Afro-Asian conference would be in opposition to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. This SEATO alliance was formed at last year's Manila conference to check the spread of communism in the area. But the Philippines, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, Viet Nam and Pakistan — all SEATO countries — are invited to Bandung. Furthermore, Afro-Asian representatives say they are not interested in any military alliances.

The business session was closed by the group repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Following the business session

Mrs. Bonnie Fort and Miss Wanda Fort had charge of the recreation period. Written contests were given and prizes awarded to Mrs. Betty Motsinger, Mrs. Juanita Roederer and Mrs. Blossom Stalions.

A buffet luncheon was served to the above mentioned and Mrs. Pansy Black, Mrs. Edna Martin, Mrs. Hilda Hitchcock, Mrs. Mary Louise Martin, Mrs. Marge Davis and Mrs. Sceva Rodocker.

Young People's Meeting Held At Adams Home

A youth meeting was held last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Adams. Games were played and the group sang gospel hymns with Miss Jane Rose Booten at the piano.

Refreshments of candy, pop corn and Cokes were served to the following: Phyllis Hicks, Barbara Williams, Jane Rose Booten, Mary Stricklin, Ollie Ann Carnett, Jerry Hull, David Williams, Russell Bishop, Leon Gibbs, Jimmie Stricklin, Kenneth and Donald Hathaway, Darrel Jett, George Aydelott, Mrs. Blanchette Aydelott, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Adams and Mary Ellen Adams.

The Players will be on the road about seven weeks, presenting "Cinderella" to matinee audiences of school children and performing in the adult play in the evenings. Bookings have been made in a score of towns and the touring calendar should eventually include about 10 additional stops, according to Raymond Dey, dean of the University Division of Extension.

The tour will start at Johnston City March 14.

Towns which have completed arrangements for booking the touring group are: Albion, Anna, Benton, Carmi, Carterville, Du Quoin, Fairfield, Golconda, Harrisburg, Herrin, Johnston City, Mt. Carmel, Marion, Murphysboro, Nashville, Salem, Staunton, Wolf Lake and Vienna.

Dey said tentative bookings have been made at Chester, Equality, Mt. Vernon and Pinckneyville, and a half dozen other towns are expected to issue invitations before the tour starts.

As in previous years, all the actors will have roles in both plays, and they will design the scenery, make the costumes, handle the lighting and do the other chores connected with the two productions. Dr. Archibald McLeod, director of the Southern Playhouse, said 10 students, five men and five women, would make the tour this spring.

In each town, the Players will be sponsored by a local organization to raise money for community projects.

Members of the touring group will be: Nancy Yost, Equality; Sharon Talley, Ann Hart and Darwin Payne, Carbondale; Dixie

Mrs. John Utter was hostess at her home on South Jackson street for the February meeting of the Xi
Beta Omega chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority with LoDema
Taylor as assistant hostess.

The cultural program of the evening, one of the year's series on "The Home We Make," entitled
"Window Treatments and Better Lighting for Better Living," was given by Bettie Jackson.

In opening her speech, Mrs.
Jackson told how windows serve three functions, to let light and air in, and to let people look out, and any treatment of a window should develop from consideration of these functions. Factors to consider: types of windows; materials for treatments; combination of window treatment; and style and fashion were illustrated and explained by the speaker.

On "Better Lighting," the following assignments were discussed:
Utilitarian or functional role; permanent fixtures; decorative value;
and portable lamps.

The chapter's business was transacted by the president, Maryalyce Morris, with the major portion of the business pertaining to the Silver anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi. International communications on the subject were read, and a discussion was held on "Fellow Members."

At the close of the program and business session, a social hour was enjoyed, and the hostesses served cherry pie and coffee to the following members: Norma Johnson,
Jean Gaskins, Roslee Dorris,
Mary Humm, Sadie Lou Stricklin,
Margaret Moore, Wilma Mae Rubel,
Bettie Jackson, Maryalyce Morris, Naida Upchurch, and Martha Dixon.

Mrs. John Wagner Hostess To Candlelight Home Bureau

The Candlelight unit of Home Bureau met Wednesday night with Mrs. John Wagner.

Mrs. Fred Wilmot, chairman, conducted the business meeting during which reports from the committees were heard and a committee to make plans for a fund raising project was appointed with Mrs. Max McDowell as chairman.

Mrs. Harry Harper, home adviser, gave the major lesson, "How Do You Rate as a Family Dieti-tion," and the minor lesson, "Sewing on Buttons, Snaps and Fastenings," was given by Mrs. McDowell.

Mrs. Harper explained that a lesson in copper enameling is now available to the unit handicraft club.

Mrs. Glynn McCormack was in charge of the recreational period after which Mrs. Wagner was assisted by Mrs. Olen Ingram, Mrs.
Sam Potter and Mrs. Fred Wiley in serving delicious refreshments to Mrs. Ed Bean, Mrs. Richard Carpenter, Mrs. Earl Clark, Mrs.
John Foster, Mrs. Bill Gall, Mrs.
Bill Keen, Mrs. Lonnie Lamkin,
Mrs. John Slichtom, Mrs. Glen
Wallace, Mrs. Harry Elmer Wirth,
Mrs. Ed Cole, Mrs. Harold Hansen,
Mrs. Don Williams, Mrs. Mc-Dowell, Mrs. Wilmot and Mrs.
McCormack.

The March meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Slichtom.

Earliest Produce

The lower Rio Grande valley of Texas produces the earliest strawberries, green corn, tomatoes, and onions grown in the United States usually.

Social and Personal Items

Miss Betty Louise Tate, Charles A. Sutton Married Jan. 29 in Ceremony at Tuscola

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sutton

In an impressive mid-winter wedding ceremony, which took place in the First Presbyterian church Jan. 29 in Tuscola, Ill., Miss Betty Louise Tate, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A.
Tate, and Charles A. Sutton, son of Mrs. Irl Dixon of Harrisburg and the late Grady Sutton, exchanged marriage vows in the presence of 125 relatives and friends.

The Rev. Robert Sterrett, pastor of the church, performed the double ring service at 2 p.m. The guests were escorted to their seats
by Rev. John N. Jones and Ter-ral Trinkle who lighted the seven tall white tapers in the two candle-abra preceding the service.

Tall standards containing white snapdragons and white chrysanthemums with white frosted pine and palms completed the altar decorations.
The pews were marked with white satin bows and sprigs of ivy.

Mrs. L. G. Stroh, church organist, played a recital of familiar bridal aires and accompanied Mrs.
Zoe Ann Martin of Villa Grove when she sang "Through the Years." At the close of the ceremony as the couple knelt at the altar,
Mrs. Martin sang "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white silk fashioned with a long molded bodice which closed in the back with tiny self covered buttons. The portrait neckline was edged with alencon lace. The full widening skirt was of waltz length. The fingertip length veil fell softly from a rhinestone and pearl tiara, and she carried a cascade bouquet of cymbidium spray orchids and white rose buds. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Carol Swanson, St. Charles, close friend of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Martha Brown, Tuscola, and Miss Margie Seaman, Arcola.
The three were dressed identically in gowns of blush pink brocade styled with fitted bodice and full skirts of eight unpressed box pleats. The long sleeved matching short jackets were fastened in the front with tiny buttons. Miss Swanson carried a bouquet of variegated Daikurga camellias. The bridesmaids carried cerise pink Daikurga camellias. They wore full bands of tiny rose buds in their hair.

Marilee Chase, Marion, niece of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid, and James Chase, Marion, nephew of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer.

Robert Riley, Garrett, served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tate chose to wear a dress of navy blue with matching acces-ories and a small hat of pink flowers. Mrs. Dixon was also dressed in navy blue with a winter white hat trimmed with rhine-stones. Both wore corsages of peach pink camellias.

Following the service the guests were received at a reception in the Hine room of the church. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered all white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom figurine. The cake and candles were surrounded by gar-lands of white mums and fern.

Mrs. Sutton, a graduate of Le-Roy high school and the University of Illinois has for a number of years been employed in the office of the Douglas County Grain company.

Mrs. Sutton, who attended Washington university, is employed in the office of Stewart Motor Sales.
The couple will reside at 313 East
Sale street, Tuscola.

Phyllis Ann Drot Has Party on 8th Birthday

Phyllis Ann Drot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Drot, celebrated her eighth birthday Saturday night with a party at her home.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Marguerite Ann Tate, Bubble Sittig, Gordon Lee Allen, Judean McIlrath, Lovetta Jackson, and Carol Drot.

After Phyllis Ann had opened her many lovely gifts, the group gathered in the dining room where they sang "Happy Birthday" while the little hostess blew out the candles on a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

Mrs. Drot then served the cake with strawberry ice cream and soda pop to the following: Stanley
Hill, Terry Clerk, Gordon Lee Allen,
Gene Sittig, Lowell Riegel, Bubble
Sittig, Tommy Gene Cotter,
Billy Tate, Dennis Lee Drot, Beaunetta Patterson, Lovetta Jackson,
Marguerite Ann Tate, Judean
McIlrath, Donna Allen, Darlene
Guye, Loretta Jackson, Carol Drot, Dorothy Cotter, Charles A.
Drot and Phyllis Ann Drot.

Others present were Mrs. Laverne Sittig, Mrs. Maryemma Guye, Mrs. Lee Shelton, Mrs. Joe Tate, Mrs. Wright Cotter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Drot of East St.
Louis and Grant Riegel.

Rev. Lidle Harris who has been in Excelsior Springs, Mo. hospital returned home feeling much improved. Friends who called at the Harris home Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Galher and son, Rev. Clifton Galher, of Fairfield, Rev. and Mrs. Claud Bowers, Thackery, Mrs. Sally Butterly, McLeansboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ghoslon of Harrisburg.
The afternoon was spent in singing and visiting.

Mrs. W. O. Gaskins, Mrs. Asa Gaskins, Mrs. Louise LaBaw and Miss Laura Raley attended a concert Thursday night at Centralia high school given by the University of Illinois choir, which is on a three-day tour of southern Illinois. The choir consists of 60 men and women and Paul Gaskins, grandson of the two Mrs. Gaskins, is a member of the bass section.

Calendar Of Meetings

Rev. Bowers of Thackery, Ill., will preach Saturday night at the First Pentecostal church on the corner of Locust and Lincoln streets in Eldorado. The public is invited.

Members of the firing squad are requested to meet at the American Legion home at 1 p.m. Sunday to attend the funeral of Jesse Lee, veteran of the Korean war, which will be held at 2 p.m.
There will be military rites.

Senate Committee
Approves Democrat
Postal Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats supporting a 10 per cent pay raise for postal workers predicted today the Senate will accept their figure despite administration pleas for a smaller increase.

The administration suffered a setback Thursday when the Senate Civil Service Committee gave its backing to the 10 per cent figure and dumped the Presidents' bill for raises averaging 5 per cent.

Some Republicans joined the Democratic majority in approving the higher raise for 480,000 postal workers.

But Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.), ranking GOP member of the committee, is expected to introduce the Presidents' measure as a substitute on the Senate floor. It also would reclassify jobs in the postal service.

The Senate committee rejected the administration measure 7-3.

Need Four More Jurors for Trial

MARION, Ill. (UPI) — Only four persons were needed today to complete the jury for the trial of Fred Odum, 40, Marion, charged with murder.

A second panel of four jurors was accepted late Thursday in Williamson County Circuit Court.
Odum, an electrician, is charged with killing Lorin Norman, 25, Marion, with a piece of firewood
at a picnic last summer.

Circuit Judge H. L. Zimmerman ordered a venire of 50 more names issued Thursday, bringing the total summoned to 280. Only 85 of those who have been called appeared for questioning by attorneys.

Nautilus Begins Final Trials

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The atomicpowered submarine Nautilus, after spending a month in dry dock undergoing checks and getting a fresh coat of paint, went back to sea today to begin the final phase of its builders' trials.

The Nautilus spent 148 hours under nuclear power during the week of Jan. 17-24, during which it cruised more than 1,000 miles and made more than 50 shallow dives.

Successfully passing these preliminary tests, the Nautilus got its first overhaul since it was launched
Jan. 21, 1954.

Weather Again Delays A-Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Overcast skies and generally unfavorable weather today caused further postponement of the third shot in the 1955 nuclear test series.

The Atomic Energy Commission said daily weather briefings would continue over the weekend although the outlook was not promising.

A dual capability test—one in which a medium or small size device can be substituted for the much-postponed "big" shot—probably will be scheduled next week, it was learned.

m Girl Dies of is from Fire Fatal brother, Sister

EM, Ill. (UPI) — A Salem girl
Thursday night of burns resulted in a fire which killed her brother and sister and destroyed home.

latest victim of the blaze
5-year-old Kathleen Branch,

the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Leonard Branch. Her 7-year-old brother, Jerry, and 10-year-old sister Brenda died in the fire early Monday.

Branch rescued Kathleen and two other children from the flames that raced through the five-room house following a gas explosion.
The other children were reported burned in the fire.

A group of Salem carpenters volunteered to donate labor to build a new house for the family.
Salem citizens were asked to donate materials or money toward the new house and several fund collections have been started.

Iowa Faces Michigan in TV Match Saturday; Will Meet Minnesota Monday

CHICAGO W — Iowa gets a chance Saturday to move into a first place tie with front-running Minnesota in the Big Ten basketball race, and the pre-season title favored Hawkeyes were a 15-point choice to whip Michigan and climb into the deadlock.

An Iowa victory would mean that the Hawks and Gophers, slated to meet Monday at Minneapolis, would be playing for the league title and a berth in the national collegiate tournament.

Iowa's scrap with Michigan, slated as the afternoon television match, will highlight a four-game conference card with both Minnesota and Michigan State plays. In other games Ohio State plays at Illinois, Indiana at Purdue and Wisconsin at Northwestern.

Iowa Has 9-2 Record
Iowa has won nine of 11 Big Ten games this season compared a to 10 of 12 for Minnesota and four of 10 for the Wolverines.

This record alone would be enough to warrant making Iowa the favorite against Michigan, but individual game scores indicated the Hawkeye edge even more strongly. Iowa tripped Illinois twice, while the Illini beat Michigan on the Wolverines' floor. Iowa defeated Michigan State on the Spartan court and Michigan State dropped the Wolverines. Iowa also tripped Ohio State twice while Michigan split with the Buckeyes.

Iowa will have an edge in height for their television battle with every starter 6 feet or more in height with Bill Logan the tallest at 6 feet 6. Michigan's center, Ron Kramer, stands only 6 feet 3.

Hawkeyes Have Scoring Punch
Shooting percentages also indicated a big edge for the Hawkeyes, who boast a field goal average of 41 per cent in conference play compared to 35 for Michigan and a free throw average of 63 per cent against 60 for the Wolverines.

Of the probable starting lineups, only one player ranked in the top ten in the conference in scoring, Kramer with an average of 19.3 points per game. But Iowa has five marksmen within the first 34 in the league in points while Michigan has four in the first 33.

For the other games, Illinois was an 18-point favorite over Ohio State, Purdue was a five-point choice over the defending champion Hoosiers, and Northwestern was a 13-point choice over Wisconsin.

Notre Dame was a two-point favorite over De Paul for their Chicago Stadium meeting.

Equality, Mills Prairie to Play In Dist. Final

Equality and Mills Prairie won opening games in the Crossville district tournament last night and will meet tonight at 7:30 to determine which club shall advance to regional play at Norris City next week.

Mills Prairie surprised the host team in the first game, winning a 62-59 decision.

In the second tilt, Equality held small margins over Enfield for three quarters before breaking away to a one-sided, 70-42 victory.

Coach "Kayo" Willis' Cardinals took a 14-10 quarter edge and held a 31-26 command at the half. By the end of the third, Equality had moved into a 44-33 lead. During the final period, Equality outscored their opponents 26-9.

Kaufman and Crayne stuffed in 18 and 17 points respectively for the victorious Cards.

Equality hit only 8 of 25 efforts at the foul line while Enfield made 16 of 26. The Willismen outift their foes from the field, however, dropping in 31 to Enfield's 13.

Looking At Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

Two Greater Egyptian conference teams — Shawneetown and Ridgway, both of Gallatin county — will clash for the fourth time this season in the opening game of the Norris City regional tournament next Tuesday night. By virtue of their season's record and three victories over Ridgway this year, Shawneetown will reign as the favorite. But Gallatin county partisans know that when Shawneetown and Ridgway basketball teams oppose each other on the hardwood court, records mean little.

Barney Genisio's Shawneetown club has the most impressive record in southeastern Illinois with 26 victories against no defeats. Included in this string of victories are two tournament championships — the Equality Invitational and the Greater Egyptian tourney. The Indians have also won a first place trophy for their 14-0 record in conference play. They defeated Ridgway 74-57 in November and then dropped the Eagles again, 66-42, in the finals of the Equality Invitational. Their last victory over Ridgway came in January, 40-31.

Coach Al Penman has four seniors on his starting five. They are Capt. Charlie Barter, Carroll Downen, Denny Drone and Pat Drone. The latter three boys are six-footers, as is Don Crayne, a junior, and the fifth man, Ridgway, has little depth, but Mills and Dillard have shown promise in their roles as front-line reserves.

Ridgway has won 10 of 24 games this season. They wound up taking four of their last five contests. Eight of their fourteen losses were by less than ten points. Against Enfield, the Eagles piled up 105 points, although Coach Penman looks upon their 55-35 conquest of Norris City as one of their best performances.

Coach Penman's boys are capable of playing most any style of ball and therein remain a threat to all foes. The Eagles are also known for their scrappy tourney ball. They placed second this year in the Equality Invitational.

The unbeaten Indians are led by "the big three" — Bobby Spotts, Garrison Newsom and Jack Nolen — all veterans of the past two campaigns. But Shawneetown's fourth and fifth men are not to be taken lightly, having shown considerable improvement and ability during the season. They are Ronnie Joyner and Alfred Gunzel.

In the second tilt, Equality held small margins over Enfield for three quarters before breaking away to a one-sided, 70-42 victory. Coach "Kayo" Willis' Cardinals took a 14-10 quarter edge and held a 31-26 command at the half. By the end of the third, Equality had moved into a 44-33 lead. ### Free Seriously Injured Burglar Trapped 12 Hours After 13-Story Fall

NEW YORK (AP)—Police and emergency crews working with sledgehammers and acetylene torches today freed seriously injured 20-year-old burglar who had been trapped for more than 12 hours after a 13-story fall.

Police and an emergency ambulance doctor carefully lifted James Anderson, a Negro, out of a tangled complex of gas, water and steam pipes where he had been wedged since crashing thru a skylight on the roof of a Midtown loft building Thursday night.

"My arms and legs are numb," Anderson gasped as police eased his body onto a stretcher. "I feel dizzy."

Dr. Bertrand New gave Anderson a shot of morphine in the left arm and he was taken to Bellevue hospital. New said after quick examination Anderson was in serious condition.

His Moaning Heard

Anderson was discovered near the bottom of a 13-story ventilation shaft shortly after 5:30 a.m. CST by an elevator man, James Reedy, 65, who entered the building to go to work.

Reedy heard moans coming from the basement and found Anderson jammed into a massive web of steam, water and gas pipes in the shaft, which may be reached from the basement by a closet door.

Anderson's feet were wedged in the pipes about nine feet above the level of the basement floor. His head was about four feet from the ceiling.

Blood was dripping from his body and his clothing was nearly all torn away.

Police and emergency crews from the Consolidated Edison Co. had to smash a hole in the shaft at the first-floor level to get the trapped man out.

While they worked he moaned and complained of dizziness and great pain. After nearly two hours of cutting into the complex of pipes New was able to reach into the hole and give Anderson the shot of morphine.

Says Forced to Jump

Anderson told reporters at the scene that he had been forced to jump through the skylight by an accomplice who pressed a .38 caliber revolver to his head and commanded: "Jump!"

"I didn't want to," Anderson whispered, his voice muffled and faint in the narrow shaft. "But my partner held a .38 gun at my head and told me to jump through the skylight. He wanted me to get into the building and pass stuff up to him."

"I told him I wouldn't. We had an argument. He pressed the gun harder at my head and said: 'Jump!'"

"The next thing I remember I went through the skylight and then I was tangled up in the pipes. I yelled for help but nobody answered. My partner must've took off."

Two Operettas Presented By HTHS Chorus

Before an appreciative audience the Harrisburg Township high school chorus last evening presented two light operettas entitled "Sunday Excursion" and "The Lowland Sea," in the Bonnell gymnasium.

"Sunday Excursion" took place on a railroad car on the New Haven Line and its cast included Barbara Dunn, Dorothy Schneider, Oren Ray Brown, Dick Fritts and Carroll Clark.

In "The Lowland Sea," were Dorie David, portrayed by Dorothy Hanning; Johnny Dee, Fred Kinnaman; Captain Jesse, David Burnam; Nathaniel Hazard, Dick Applegate; Amos, Larry Landers; Hannah, Barbara Dunn; and Nathaniel's children, Abraham, Jerry Lauderdale; Delight, Judy White-side, and Patience, Judy Hicks.

These two modern operas, designed primarily for amateur groups, made use of only few stage furnishings. A table, a bench and four chairs made up the list. Changes of time, place and condition were merely suggested by lights off and on.

Background music was furnished by the chorus and piano accompaniment was played by the director, John Schork.

Taken to State Farm

Ernest Bryant of Harrisburg was taken this morning to the state farm at Vandalia to serve a one-year term for violation of his probation. Bryant, on probation, was charged a few days ago with petit larceny. He was taken to Vandalia by Sheriff William T. Barrett and Deputy Everett N. Sneed.

Robert Christopher Tells Of Trip Around World

Delhi from where he visited the Himalaya mountains on the border of Tibet and saw one of the world's most beautiful sights—the Taj Mahal by moonlight.

On his arrival at Calcutta he had only $14 left of his money and finally contacted a Siamese airline which flew him 4,000 miles to Tokyo for the cost of some colored films to use for publicity. He had $6.50 on his arrival at Tokyo, but he had received much publicity. By working on a ship he crossed the north Pacific and arrived at San Francisco with $4.58. His first ride from San Francisco took him to Ames, Iowa, and from there he found rides until he arrived in Manhattan and finished the trip to his home with a 60 cent taxi ride.

In all his travels, Mr. Christopher stated, he learned that basically the people all over the world, in spite of the differences in languages, customs and religions, are friendly with strangers.

"It is a wonderful hope for the world," he said, "that the man on the street is basically the same everywhere."

Plans More Trips

Mr. Christopher is still a world traveler and will leave on April 14 for a trip to the Orient. And next year, he will guide a tour of 18 persons on a round-the-world trip.

Bruce Burnett, former president of the club, was in charge of the meeting in the absence of the president, Hudson Mugge, who is ill. The speaker was introduced by Judge L. M. Hancock and invocation was given by Mrs. N. A. Thompson of Eldorado.

The next meeting of the Dinner club will be on March 24 at which time Ed Harding, a humorist, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Gertrude Mitsdarffer Speaks To Los Angeles Club

Recent editions of the Los Angeles TIMES and the HERALD & EXPRESS mention the appearance of Mrs. Gertrude Gaskins Mitsdarffer at a gathering of the Los Angeles branch of National League of American Penwomen.

Mrs. Mitsdarffer spoke on some of her adventures in hunting big game, and of her travels to Europe and other places. Residents of Harrisburg, her home city, will recall with pleasure the unique method she used in telling of her travels over the European continent by illustrating her discussion with quick changes of hats representing the various countries visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitsdarffer are spending the winter in Santa Monica. Ordinarily they spend winter months in Harrisburg attending to business affairs, but these duties are being attended to this winter by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Andersen of Estes Park, Colo., who are in temporary residence at the Harrisburg Motor Hotel.

In all his travels, Mr. Christopher stated, he learned that basically the people all over the world, in spite of the differences in languages, customs and religions, are friendly with strangers.

Select Cast For Senior Play

The cast for the Senior play, "The Curious Savage," to be presented at the Harrisburg Township high school the first of April was recently selected by Mrs. Lolo Eddy, HTHS speech director.

Eleven senior students will be featured in the play and will dramatize the following parts: Mrs. Savage, Judy Bell; other members in her family—Titus, Richard Baldwin; Samuel, Richard Applegate; and Lily Belle, Mona Wickham. Guests at "The Cloisters," which is a home for the insane, are Florence, Mona Azar; Hannibal, Oren Brown; Fairy May, Judy Morse; Jeffrey, Carroll Clark; and Mrs. Paddy, Barbara Dunn. The staff at "The Cloisters" consists of Dr. Emmett, Jean Abney, and Miss Wilhelmina, Mona Healy.

"The Curious Savage" is a comedy in three acts and was written by John Patrick.

Ulysses S. Grant, Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis served as fellow officers in the Mexican War.

Faneuil Hall, in Boston, was restored with lottery-raised money after it was destroyed by fire in 1761.

State Engineer To Study 13,000- Acre Proposal

URANIUM LORE: A couple of local prospectors for uranium did not put the pack on the donkey, grab a couple of picks and start out.

Nope, they're using an airplane and a thousand dollar piece of equipment.

The two men are Merle Cox and Stanley Wilson Jr. I talked with Merle yesterday.

The two hadn't said much about their prospecting but there's one thing I'm going to say early: Merle told me that they'd prospected all over from airplane and so far one of the best "strikes" they've found is in Saline county. That's all there is to say. I cannot tell you what northeast corner of the north-north quarter of the west-west quarter of what section it is in because I do not know.

Here is how the Cox-Wilson team operates:

Wilson goes up in his airplane with a companion. They have a Scintillator that has a range of 1,600 feet and a map. When the Scintillator, which, as we mentioned yesterday, is much more sensitive than a Geiger counter, starts acting up the spot is pin-pointed on the map. Then Cox visits the place by ground and gives the spot of the Geiger Counter-Scintillator one-two.

"We use the latest methods and the most modern equipment," Cox told me.

Cox explained to me that the instruments will give a test only a couple of feet below the surface and that if what he is interested in runs deeper, he sends in a diamond core driller.

The two of them have under lease 104 acres close to Hicks Dome, Cox said.

He explained that what uranium prospectors look for is "pitch blonde," a very dark rock.

"This has the best reaction," he stated. "You can find it in shales, sandrocks and any other rock, too, but so far the pitch blonde has been the best."

He said the best deposits of pitch blonde have been found at Bear Creek, Canada, on the Belgian Congo and in Czechoslovakia.

THE BIRD: This is a far cry from uranium, but good:

A photo of a tablecloth made by Mrs. Katherine Jurecska of Harrisburg Route 1 will appear in the March issue of Woman's Day, the A & P grocery magazine.

This tablecloth, with a bird design, was a trophy winner at the Saline county fair.

Mrs. Jurecska received $50 from the magazine for the use of her tablecloth for a picture. The cloth was shipped to the magazine headquarters for photography.

DR. ARCHIE E. BROWN is pictured in the Feb. 25 issue of The Illinois Baptist.

Under it are these cutlines: Dr. Archie E. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church of Vandalia. The church is dedicating its new education building the week of February 20-27, 1955. The date, February 27, has an added meaning to the pastor. It was 15 years ago that on that Sunday afternoon that he was ordained to the gospel ministry in the First Baptist church in Harrisburg, Illinois.

J. H. Hanks, 51,
Former Resident,
Dies in Cleveland

John Henry Hanks, 51, former resident of Harrisburg, died today at 2:30 a. m. in Cleveland, Ohio, where he had been living for the past 15 years. He underwent surgery Feb. 18 for a ruptured appendix.

He was born in Success, Ark., and was a welder by occupation.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Nancy Sheldor, Harrisburg; his wife, Anna; a daughter, Mrs. K. C. (Dorothy) Rogers; a brother, Joe Hanks of Harrisburg, and a half sister, Mrs. Richard (Helen) Beam, Harrisburg, and two half brothers, Jesse Sheldor, Chicago, and Guy Sheldor of Pontiac, Mich.

The body will arrive Sunday morning on the New York Central and will lie in state at the Gaskins funeral home. The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church with burial in Sun- set Lawn cemetery.

J. H. Hanks, 51,
Former Resident,
Dies in Cleveland

John Henry Hanks, 51, former resident of Harrisburg, died today at 2:30 a. m. in Cleveland, Ohio, where he had been living for the past 15 years. He underwent surgery Feb. 18 for a ruptured appendix.

He was born in Success, Ark., and was a welder by occupation.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Nancy Sheldor, Harrisburg; his wife, Anna; a daughter, Mrs. K. C. (Dorothy) Rogers; a brother, Joe Hanks of Harrisburg, and a half sister, Mrs. Richard (Helen) Beam, Harrisburg, and two half brothers, Jesse Sheldor, Chicago, and Guy Sheldor of Pontiac, Mich.

The body will arrive Sunday morning on the New York Central and will lie in state at the Gaskins funeral home. The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church with burial in Sun- set Lawn cemetery.

Death Takes Jesse J. Lee, 23

Jesse J. Lee, 23

Jesse J. Lee, 23, husband of the former Miss Wanda Spurlock, 412 West Raymond, died yesterday at 10:10 p. m. in the Veterans hospital in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Lee was an auto mechanic and was a veteran of the Korean War.

Besides his wife, he leaves two brothers, Clifford Lee of Arnold, Mo., and Dale Lee; one sister, Miss June Lee, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lee, all of St. Louis, Mo.

The funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Sloan Street General Baptist church. Rev. Ned Sutton will officiate, and burial will be in Sunset Gardens cemetery attended by military rites of the American Legion.

The body will be returned by the Gibbs funeral service to the residence to lie in state until funeral time.

PTA Founders' Day Program Monday Night

Patrons of the Harrisburg City Schools are looking forward to the annual PTA Founders' Day program to be held at the McKinley school, Monday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p. m. For many years Harrisburg PTA units have joined in making this annual event an important feature of the school year. It is the only PTA program scheduled for the month of February.

Rev. J. D. McCarty, pastor of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, will give the invocation to open the program. The featured speaker will be John W. Allen of the Southern Illinois University faculty. He is well known as an historian and will talk on "Pioneer Schools in Southern Illinois." The Harrisburg City Schools band, under the direction of W. W. Chunn, will present a short concert.

Russell Malan, superintendent of the Harrisburg schools, will talk briefly on the rebuilding of the facilities of the Junior high school. Attendance awards and past presidents pins will be presented by C. Dwan Fritch, president of the Harrisburg PTA City Council. The council, working with the principals of the various schools, planned the program.

The body will be returned by the Gibbs funeral service to the residence to lie in state until funeral time.

Way of Aggressors Made Harder, Dulles Tells Final Session of SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told the final session of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization nations today "the way of the aggressor has been made harder" by SEATO's urgent efforts to bring peace to Asia.

Decisions reached at the first meeting of the council under the Manila pact have given it an effective foundation to build defense against open armed aggression, defense against subversion and to promote economic and social well being, Dulles said.

"There has been recognition of the gravity of the danger that confronts us and of the urgency of dealing with it," he said.

He said the council's decisions would now be turned over to "ex-

The governor then mentioned these possibilities:

1. Immediate consultation with public works and waterways officials to see what technical help those agencies could offer.

2. Legislation this session that would help the conservancy district start its project and "encourage more of this sort of thing."

3. Efforts to get increased federal aid under programs for developing water resources.

Asked if Baker if the state could appropriate enough funds for a preliminary engineering survey, Stratton said he would know only after getting more information on what that would cost. He sent the delegation to meet with Asst. Public Works Director Troy A. Kost and Waterways Chief Engineer Thomas B. Casey.

Casey said he would send an engineer to inspect the proposed lake site "within a week."

Asked if he could then estimate the cost of the preliminary survey, Casey said "I think I can give you that."

Baker said he plans to introduce legislation for an appropriation to cover this survey.

Water Supply Benefits

Hal D. Brown, Benton, counsel for the conservancy district, said the lake would bring industrial and public water supply benefits to all of southern Illinois, and give the area needed recreational facilities.

The conservancy district was created Jan. 8, with voters from 12 Franklin County townships and 6 Jefferson County townships voting for it 21. The proposed lake would hold an estimated 40 billion gallons of water and draw from a 10-county watershed.

Engineers for private business have estimated the entire project—including land acquisition and construction of the dam—would cost 1.2 million dollars.

The district trustees said the land that would be covered by the lake contains some good farm land but is mostly rough country with scrub growth. There are no cemeteries or towns on the lake site and it is sparsely populated.

The lake would be 1½ times as large as Crab Orchard Lake. The dam would be built at a place called "Sugar Bluff" north of the abandoned mining community of Rend.

The trustees emphasized they do not want federal government control of the lake so it cannot be used for private business, industry and recreation, but want to keep district control.

The trustees who met with Stratton were John D. Douglas, Benton, president; Charles J. Covington, Mount Vernon, secretary; Frank Coffman, Ina, treasurer, and members Angelo Bioni, Christopher Kenneth Cockrum, Sesser, and Barney Clemons, West Frankfort.

Delegates Reminded Of Imperative Need To Avoid Atomic War

LONDON (AP) — The United States and its Western Allies today opened a crucial East-West disarmament conference with Russia amid sharp British reminders that there is "imperative need" for agreement to avoid the threat of atomic war.

He had told the conference earlier the United States forces in the Pacific are now more powerful with their atomic weapons than Japan. The emphasis at the meeting was on the problems of the SEATO nations, but Dulles took time to discuss the critical Formosa crisis with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Australian Foreign Minister R. G. Casey.

Informed sources said Casey had worked hard to bring Dulles and Eden "closer together" on the Formosa issue. It was known Casey favored a strong anti-Communist stand and that "something of a substantive nature must be done quickly."

The meeting closed today with a message of "cordial greetings" to the Asian-African conference scheduled to be held in Indonesia next April.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today that Nationalist China should evacuate Quemoy and Matsu islands just off the Red China coast, as the indispensable first step toward any Formosan settlement.

Nehru said this necessity is "generally recognized by the countries of the West."

He described the Nationalist occupation of Quemoy and Matsu, which block the Communist ports of Amoy and Foochow, as "intolerable."

Nehru told the Indian Parliament that no country could be expected to allow an enemy force to occupy islands within a few miles of its mainland.

The Indian prime minister was sharply critical of the new South-East Asia Treaty Organization and other Asian and Middle Eastern military pacts.

"There is no sense in having such pacts in the nuclear age," he said. "They are like threats."

The West was in a "show mood" for the same diplomats or their wives have been seeking the end of the disarmament rainbow since the end of World War II. They have not been able to reach agreement because Russia has insisted that any system of controls and inspections would violate its sovereignty.

The Indian prime minister was sharply critical of the new South-East Asia Treaty Organization and other Asian and Middle Eastern military pacts.

He has ordered Quemoy and Matsu — both located just off the Red China coast and approximately

Xi Beta Omega Chapter
Meets At Utter Home

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Mrs. John Utter was hostess at her home on South Jackson street for the February meeting of the Xi Beta Omega chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority with LoDema Taylor as assistant hostess.

The cultural program of the evening, one of the year's series on "The Home We Make," entitled "Window Treatments and Better Lighting for Better Living," was given by Bettie Jackson.

In opening her speech, Mrs. Jackson told how windows serve three functions, to let light and air in, and to let people look out, and any treatment of a window should develop from consideration of these functions. Factors to consider: types of windows; materials for treatments; combination of window treatment; and style and fashion were illustrated and explained by the speaker.

On "Better Lighting," the following assignments were discussed: Utilitarian or functional role; permanent fixtures; decorative value; and portable lamps.

The chapter's business was transacted by the president, Maryalyce Morris, with the major portion of the business pertaining to the Silver anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi. International communications on the subject were read, and a discussion was held on "Fellow Members."

At the close of the program and business session, a social hour was enjoyed, and the hostess served cherry pie and coffee to the following members: Norma Johnson, Jean Gaskins, Roselle Dorris, Mary Humm, Sadie Lou Stricklin, Margaret Moore, Wilma Mae Rubin, Bettie Jackson, Maryalyce Morris, Naida Upchurch, and Martha Dixon.

Mrs. John Wagner Hostess To Candlelight Home Bureau

The Candlelight unit of Home Bureau met Wednesday night with Mrs. John Wagner.

Miss Betty Louise Tate, Charles A. Sutton
Married Jan. 29 in Ceremony at Tuscola

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sutton

In an impressive mid-winter rings, a gift of the bridegroom, wedding ceremony, which took place in the First Presbyterian church Jan. 29 in Tuscola, Ill., maid of honor. The bridesmaids, Miss Betty Louise Tate, only were Miss Martha Brown, Tuscola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. and Miss Margie Seaman, Arcola, Mrs. Irl Dixon of Harrisburg, in gowns of blush pink brocade and the late Grady Sutton, exchanged marriage vows in the presence of 125 relatives and friends.

The Rev. Robert Sterrett, pastor of the church, performed the double ring service at 2 p.m. The guests were escorted to their seats by Rev. John N. Jones and Terrell Trinkle who lighted the seven tall white tapers in the candleabra preceding the service.

Tall standards containing white snapdragons and white chrysanthemums with white frosted pine and palms completed the altar decorations. The pews were marked with white satin bows and sprigs of ivy.

Mrs. L. G. Stroh, church organist, played a recital of familiar bridal aires and accompanied Mrs. Zoe Ann Martin of Villa Grove when she sang "Through the Years." At the close of the ceremony as the couple knelt at the altar, Mrs. Martin sang "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white silk fashioned with a long molded bodice which closed in the back with tiny self covered buttons. The portrait neckline was edged with alencon lace. The full widening skirt was of waltz length. The fingertip length veil fell softly from a rhinestone and pearl tiara, and she carried a cascade bouquet of cymbidium spray orchids and white rose buds. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls and matching ear-

Phyllis Ann Droit Has Party on 8th Birthday
Phyllis Ann Droit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Droit, celebrated her eighth birthday Saturday night with a party at her home. Games were played and prizes awarded to Marguerite Ann Tate, Bubbie Sittig, Gordon Lee Allen, Judean McIlrath, Lovetta Jackson, and Carol Droit.

After Phyllis Ann had opened her many lovely gifts, the group gathered in the dining room where they sang "Happy Birthday" while the little hostess blew out the candles on a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

Mrs. Droit then served the cake with strawberry ice cream and soda pop to the following: Stanley Hill, Terry Clerk, Gordon Lee Allen, Gene Sittig, Lowell Riegel, Bubbie Sittig, Tommy Gene Cotter, Billy Tate, Dennis Lee Droit, Beaunetta Patterson, Lovetta Jackson, Marguerite Ann Tate, Judean McIlrath, Donna Allen, Darlene Guye, Lovetta Jackson, Carol Droit, Dorothy Cotter, Charlie A. Senate Committee Approves Democrat Postal Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats supporting a 10 per cent pay raise for postal workers predicted today the Senate will accept their figure despite administration pleas for a smaller increase.

The administration suffered a setback Thursday when the Senate Civil Service Committee gave its backing to the 10 per cent figure and dumped the Presidents' bill for raises averaging 5 per cent. Some Republicans joined the Democratic majority in approving the higher raise for 480,000 postal workers.

But Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.), ranking GOP member of the committee, is expected to introduce the President's measure as a substitute on the Senate floor. It also would reclassify jobs in the postal service.

The Senate committee rejected the administration measure 7-3.

Need Four More Jurors for Trial

MARION, Ill. (UPI) — Only four persons were needed today to complete the jury for the trial of Fred Odum, 40, Marion, charged with murder.

A second panel of four jurors was accepted late Thursday in Williamson County Circuit Court. Odum, an electrician, is charged with killing Lorin Norman, 25, Marion, with a piece of firewood at a picnic last summer.

Circuit Judge H. L. Zimmerman ordered a venire of 50 more names issued Thursday, bringing the total summoned to 280. Only 85 of those who have been called appeared for questioning by attorneys.

Nautilus Begins Final Trials

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The atomic powered submarine Nautilus, after spending a month in dry dock undergoing checks and getting a fresh coat of paint, went back to sea today to begin the final phase of its builders' trials.

The Nautilus spent 148 hours under nuclear power during the week of Jan. 17-24, during which it cruised more than 1,000 miles and made more than 50 shallow dives.

Successfully passing these preliminary tests, the Nautilus got its first overhaul since it was launched Jan. 21, 1954.

Weather Again Delays A-Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Overcast skies and generally unfavorable weather today caused further postponement of the third shot in the 1955 nuclear test series.

The Atomic Energy Commission said daily weather briefings would continue over the weekend although the outlook was not promising.

A dual capability test—one in which a medium or small size device can be substituted for the much-postponed "big" shot—probably will be scheduled next week it was learned.

A Man of Action

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
France's newest cabinet crisis is more than ordinarily regrettable, even for a free world grown accustomed to the ups and downs of French politics.

When, after a long series of shaky governments, the dynamic Pierre Mendes-France assumed the premiership last June, there was a feeling that "this time it will be different."

It was. For the first time in years, France got real action. Mendes-France promised to end the Indo-China war in a month, and he did. He pressed the long-delayed European Defense Community pact to a vote in the French Parliament, and after its rejection joined in signing the substitute Paris agreements and driving them through the Assembly. They would bring Germany into NATO.

Mendes-France had other ambitious plans for dealing with various domestic difficulties, and the thorny problem of his country's ties with colonial North Africa. Persistently, even ruthlessly, he pursued solutions.

Yet there was a basic flaw in this heartening portrait of activity. Mendes-France was skating hard, but he was always skating on thin ice.

Though he had support from elements of many parties, he commanded no party. At the start, his had been a coalition of desperation. Frightened and weary of their own weakness, the French had turned to the "man of action" almost as a last resort. But the mood could not be sustained.

As Mendes-France drove on, his parliamentary supporters fell away. The old reluctance to grapple with real solutions reassured itself. Increasingly, his plans met with resistance. Still, the controversial premier insisted on trying to give his country the kind of government he'd promised, the only kind he thought would save it as world power.

In the end, habitual French attitudes triumphed. On the issue of his North African policies, Mendes-France went down.

A new premier hardly can hope to be more active than he, though conceivably the newcomer's parliamentary backing may be broader and more solid. For the sake of France and the free world, we must pray for at least that much.

Mendes-France's contribution to his nation may be questioned by some, but there is no doubt he gave the French people a taste of action. Our greatest hope should be that, in spite of this evident victory of their old weakness, they find in retrospect that they liked the taste.

For until the French act again as a steady way of life, the Western chain of strength against hostile forces will have one frail link.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Washington representatives of some of the 30 African and Asian nations invited to a conference at Bandung, Indonesia, April 18-24, are having a hard time trying to calm down American fears that there is some hidden, ulterior motive behind it all.

Since the five Colombo powers that promoted this conference have been vague about their agenda, it has been a natural for wide speculation. These Colombo powers, by the way, must not be confused with the Colombo Plan countries, which include Britain, Canada and the United States in a scheme for technical assistance and economic development for underdeveloped countries.

The five Colombo powers are India, Ceylon, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia. Their prime ministers met first a year ago in the Ceylonese capital to search for a formula to end the fighting in Indo-China.

That effort failed, but the meeting led to plans for the Afro-Asian conference. Dr. Ali Sastroamidjojo, premier of Indonesia and her former Washington ambassador, is generally considered father of the conference and his government will host. How many countries will attend or decline is still unknown.

AFRICAN NATIONS INVITED ARE: Egypt, Libya, Liberia, Gold Coast, Ethiopia, Sudan and the

Looking At Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

Two Greater Egyptian conference teams — Shawneetown and Ridgway, both of Gallatin county — will clash for the fourth time this season in the opening game of the Norris City regional tournament next Tuesday night. By virtue of their season's record and three victories over Ridgway this year, Shawneetown will reign as the favorite. But Gallatin county partisans know that when Shawneetown and Ridgway basketball teams oppose each other on the hardwood court, records mean little.

Barney Genisio's Shawneetown club has the most impressive record in southeastern Illinois with 26 victories against no defeats. Included in this string of victories are two tournament championships — the Equality Invitational and the Greater Egyptian tourney. The Indians have also won a first place trophy for their 14-0 record in conference play. They defeated Ridgway 74-57 in November and then dropped the Eagles again, 64-42, in the finals of the Equality Invitational. Their last victory over Ridgway came in January, 40-31.

Coach Al Penman has four seniors on his starting five. They are Capt. Charlie Barter, Carroll Downen, Denny Drone and Pat Drone. The latter three boys are six-footers, as is Don Crayne, a junior, and the fifth man, Ridgway has little depth, but Mills and Dillard have shown promise in their roles as front-line reserves.

Ridgway has won 10 of 24 games this season. They wound up taking four of their last five contests.

Eight of their fourteen losses were by less than ten points. Against Enfield, the Eagles piled up 105 points, although Coach Penman looks upon their 55-35 conquest of Norris City as one of their best performances.

The Bull Dogs, out of the cellar by virtue of a forfeit of a game against Herrin to the locals because the Tigers used an ineligible player in December, will be facing a team that is one notch above the locals in the loop standings.

Harrisburg has a 2-9 mark, Frankfort 4-7. But Frankfort is a team that waxes hot and cold. The Red Birds have been very, very good at times; and at other times very, very bad.

The Bull Dogs back on Dec. 15 played the Birds at Frankfort and almost won the contest, 44-42, as Coach Gene Bland changed the style of his team.

Frankfort has three very good boys on the first five: Paul Peeler, tall center; and Gale Dawson and Francis Florian, forwards. Florian is just a freshman but is husky enough to hold his own.

Johnston City, with a veteran team coached by first year mentor Pete Truran, beat the locals in the contest played there.

There will be one other South Seven game tonight, Benton at Herrin.

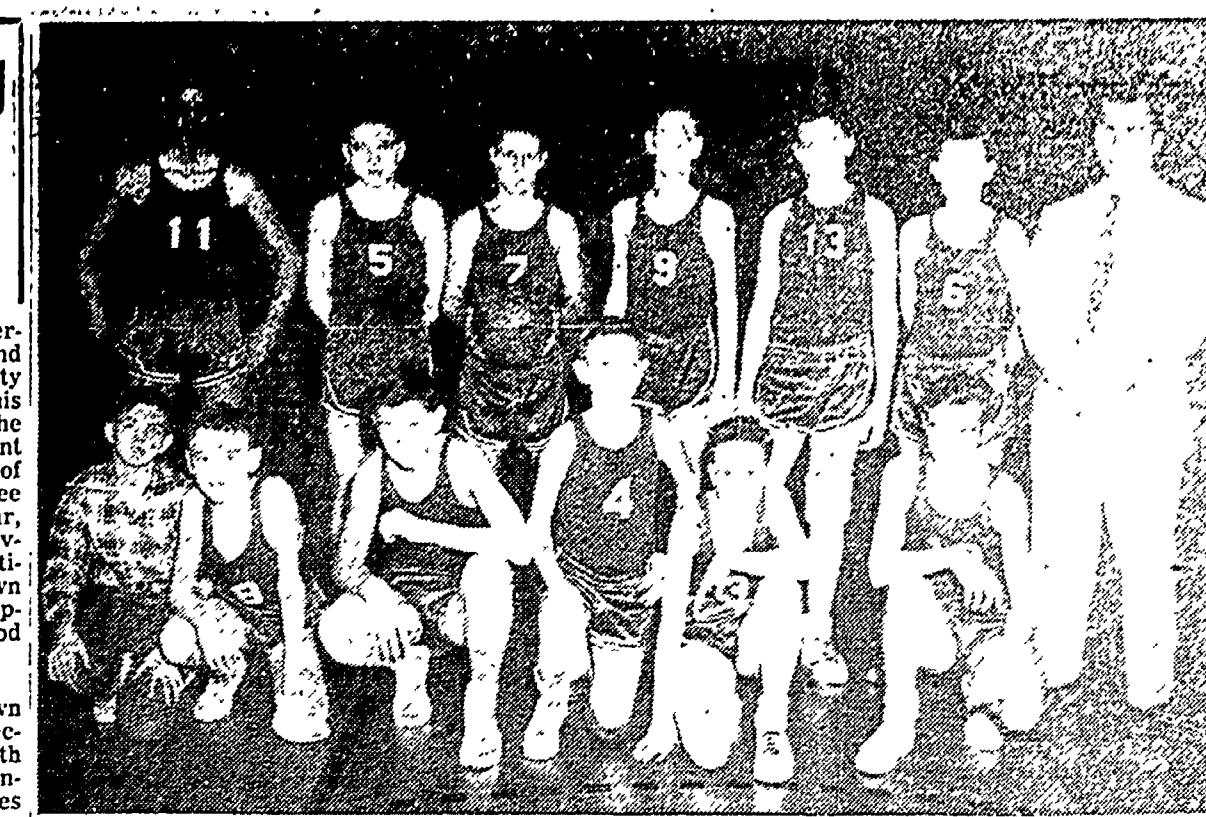

Marion will be host to Paducah and Mt. Vernon to Murphysboro in non-league tilts. Other games tonight find Metropolis at Eldorado, Zeigler at Johnston City, Trico at Anna-Jonesboro, Robinson at Carmi and Du Quoin at McLeansboro.

In a beautiful and impressive ceremony Miss Beth was crowned Queen by basketball captain Keith Whittier. The coronation ceremonies were held in the ETHS auditorium before a large crowd following the presentation of the Junior class play "Just Ducky."

Members of the Queen's court were Pat Elder, first lady in waiting; Joan Burroughs, second lady in waiting; Claudette Justice, third lady in waiting and Linda Sontra, crown princess. Nancy Gasaway was crown bearer and Dinah Lee Wylie trainbearer.

Members of the gentlemen's court were Ed Lissak, Jerry Chandler, Bill Putnam, Ronnie Stroke, Jim Lyons and Bob Lafoon, with Roscoe Wood and Ronnie Clark the pages.

Tom Goldman was soloist for the ceremony, accompanied by Mary Ann Read.

Locals Will Wind Up Regular Season With Johnston City

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs tonight wind up their South Seven conference season with a tilt against the West Frankfort cagers at Davenport gym, then end their regular season tomorrow night with the Johnston City Indians, which also is a home game.

The Bull Dogs, out of the cellar by virtue of a forfeit of a game against Herrin to the locals because the Tigers used an ineligible player in December, will be facing a team that is one notch above the locals in the loop standings.

Harrisburg has a 2-9 mark, Frankfort 4-7. But Frankfort is a team that waxes hot and cold. The Red Birds have been very, very good at times; and at other times very, very bad.

Marquette Wins 21st Straight in Real Convincer

By United Press

Let those "doubting Thomases" who didn't believe Marquette's class be silent today, because the Warriors made their 21st straight victory a real convincer.

Trailing by 11 points after four minutes and 12 points at halftime, Marquette came storming back to beat a first-class Notre Dame team, 84-74, on the Irish court at South Bend, Ind. The Warriors, unbeaten since their opening game loss to Michigan State, already have been picked for the NCAA tournament.

Notre Dame, with only an 11-8 record but a team that figured to be mighty tough on its home court started as if to blast Marquette off the floor by seizing a 12-1 lead.

Slowly the Warriors crept back to a three-point deficit and then Notre Dame ripped off nine straight for a 37-25 halftime lead. Grimly Marquette battled back to tie at 47-47 with 11 minutes, and then Bob Walczak's two free throws put the Warriors ahead to stay. Walczak led the attack with 27 points, while Lloyd Aubrey paced Notre Dame with 23.

La Salle Officially In

Marquette was joined in the NCAA tournament Thursday by defending champion La Salle (21-4) and Memphis State (17-3), which completed the total of five "members at large" to be selected from the East.

The National Invitation tournament added LaFayette (20-2) and Connecticut (20-3) to its field. Only two places remain to be filled in the big Madison Square Garden carnival and they are expected to come from this group: Tennessee, Alabama, Texas Tech, West Texas State, Williams, St. Louis, Tulsa, DePaul, and Texas Christian.

Some of these are involved in team races, and can go to the NIT only if they fail to win their league championship and an NCAA berth.

Anne Tuesday of this week. Since the holiday tourney at Eldorado, Dec. 22-23, Metropolis has many wins, including a 55-46 trouncing of Johnston City.

Article Gives
More Information
On Hicks Dome

MORE ABOUT URANIUM: Harry Porter, publisher of the Hardin County Independent at Elizabethtown, this week carried a story about the prospecting of Hicks Dome and he brings out some interesting, although perhaps dampening, information.

His story said that abnormal radioactivity was found in the upper part of the breccia zone encountered in an oil test drilled on the apex of Hicks Dome in 1952 by the St. Joseph Lead Co., and the information was released in a paper entitled "Explosion Pipe in Test Hole on Hicks Dome, Hardin County, Illinois," in the December issue of "Economic Geology," written by John S. Brown, J. A. Emory and P. H. Meyer Jr.

This paper states: "The information given herein has been released through the courtesy of the St. Joseph Lead Co. in the belief that it is of more than scientific interest, even though it seems to have no immediate practical value."

Porter declares that after describing the Dome and theorizing how it was formed by a volcanic explosion, caused by steam, the paper takes up the subject of radioactivity:

"Because of the peculiar nature of the breccia (caused in the pipe by the explosion) encountered in the lower half of the hole, the cuttings were tested for possible radioactivity under the supervision of James W. Hill, a visiting U. S. Geological Survey representative. The test showed two to four times normal background count in several sections (radioactivity). Samples from representative sections were submitted later to the Denver laboratory for analysis under auspices of the Atomic Energy commission . . .

"The amount of radioactivity in four of the samples is significant, but the lack of uranium revealed by the chemical analyses indicates that radium, thorium or some other elements are the cause of the radioactivity."

Porter says one of the samples showed .024 per cent uranium; others .001 per cent. The federal government will not purchase any ore containing less than .2 per cent uranium oxide and added that the Denver laboratory, according to the paper, in a final report on the samples stated "the moderate radioactivity of the sample is caused largely by thorium."

Hull to Retire As Commander In the Far East

WASHINGTON IP—Gen. John E. Hull, U. S. Far East commander, will retire on April 30 after more than 37 years of military service, it was announced today.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chief of U. S. Army forces in the Far East and a wartime 8th Army commander in Korea, was the most mentioned prospect to succeed Hull. Taylor arrived here unannounced this week for conferences and has avoided reporters. He returns to Japan shortly.

The Army, in announcing Hull's retirement date and plans to return to the United States in early April, said no successor has been named.

Hull will shed his four-star Army uniform 26 days short of his 60th birthday anniversary. As America's top military man in the Far East, he has a dual command. He is chief of all U. S. Army, Navy and Air Forces and is head of the United Nations Command which was set up early in the Korean war. His area embraces Japan, Korea and Okinawa.

No hmeight seeker in his long career, Hull is a decorated combat veteran of World War I and a top staff officer of World War II. He directed the Eniwetok atom bomb tests in 1948. He was Army vice chief of staff before taking over the Far East commands from Gen. Mark Clark, retired, in Oct. 1943.

3 Vienna Business Places Burglarized

Officers are investigating three break-ins at Vienna Thursday night in which three business places were burglarized.

Farris Motors reports $600 was taken from a safe which was rolled from the office into the workshop and where the burglars used the shop tools to open the safe.

John's Implements was entered, but the safe contained no money and was unlocked.

Lindsey Motor Sales was entered and a 900-pound safe was hauled away. It contained about $10 in cash and firm records.

Barter is Low Bidder on Paving Project

Bids $811,249 For Approach to Ohio River Bridge

The J. D. Barter Construction Co. of Harrisburg was low bidder on the paving project in connection with the Illinois approach to the Ohio river bridge at Shawneetown, it was revealed today.

The Barter bid of $811,249.54 is for 2.45 miles of 22-foot wide concrete pavement from near Shawneetown southeasterly to the new bridge.

Bids were opened yesterday at Springfield by the Department of Public Works and Buildings, Division of Highways, State of Illinois.

On the Shawneetown paving project the S. J. Groves and Sons Co., which paved the Mitchellsburg-to-Dixon Springs highway, was second low bidder with a figure of $819,297.47. R. B. Potashnick of Cape Girardeau was third with $866,255.04 and the Leon B. Stilley Construction Co. was fourth with $958,046.79.

On the same project there were bids received for bridge construction and the Howell Engineering Co., Carbondale, was low with a bid of $134,322.72. This contract calls for a three-span continuous steel I-beam bridge three-fourths mile north of Shawneetown and a three-span continuous steel I-beam highway grade separation structure in Shawneetown. There were eight bids on this project ranging from Howell's low up to $150,891.10.

A vote of thanks to retiring county superintendent of schools, R. Dale Wilson, for an efficient administration and many favors extended to teachers and administrators;

To support the legislative program of the Illinois Education Association.

These projects are "musts" in connection with the huge new bridge under construction at present. Plans are to have the bridge completed by November and presumably the approach work will be done by the time the bridge is finished.

R. W. Ford of Marion was low bidder on a big Saline county project, the widening of two reinforced concrete deck girder bridges, three-span steel I-beam bridges and a steel I-beam superstructure between Carrier Mills and Stonefort.

The Ford bid was $211,621.55. One other bid, by Tri-State Engineering Co., Benton, was $212,375.81.

In connection with this project, Illinois Steel Bridge Co., Jacksonville, was low with a bid of $42,169.03 for furnishing, fabricating and delivery of structural steel and metal handrail for a three-span I-beam bridge and a steel I-beam superstructure one mile and one-half miles north of Stonefort. There were seven bidders.

Free Seriously Injured Burglar Trapped 12 Hours After 13-Story Fall

NEW YORK — Police and emergency crews working with sledgehammers and acetylene torches today freed a seriously injured 20-year-old burglar who had been trapped for more than 12 hours after a 13-story fall.

Police and an emergency ambulance doctor carefully lifted James Anderson, a Negro, out of a tangled complex of gas, water and steam pipes where he had been wedged since crashing thru a skylight on the roof of a Midtown loft building Thursday night. "My arms and legs are numb," Anderson gasped as police eased his body onto a stretcher. "I feel dizzy."

Dr. Bertrand New gave Anderson a shot of morphine in the left arm and he was taken to Bellevue hospital. New said after quick examination Anderson was in serious condition.

His Moaning Heard

Anderson was discovered near the bottom of a 13-story ventilation shaft shortly after 5:30 a. m. CST by an elevator man, James Reedy, 65, who entered the building to go to work.

Reedy heard moans coming from the basement and found Anderson jammed into a massive web of steam, water and gas pipes in the shaft, which may be reached from the basement by a closet door.

Anderson's feet were wedged in the pipes about nine feet above the level of the basement floor. His head was about four feet from the ceiling.

Blood was dripping from his body and his clothing was nearly all torn away.

Police and emergency crews from the Consolidated Edison Co. had to smash a hole in the shaft at the first-floor level to get the trapped man out.

While they worked he moaned and complained of dizziness and great pain. After nearly two hours of cutting into the complex of pipes New was able to reach into the hole and give Anderson the shot of morphine.

Says Forced to Jump

Anderson told reporters at the scene that he had been forced to jump through the skylight by an accomplice who pressed a .38 caliber revolver to his head and commanded: "Jump!"

"I didn't want to," Anderson whispered, his voice muffled and faint in the narrow shaft. "But my partner held a .38 gun at my head and told me to jump through the skylight. He wanted me to get into the building and pass stuff up to him."

"I told him I wouldn't. We had an argument. He pressed the gun harder at my head and said: 'Jump!'"

"The next thing I remember I went through the skylight and then I was tangled up in the pipes.

"I yelled for help but nobody answered. My partner must've took off."

Two Operettas Presented By HTHS Chorus

Before an appreciative audience, the Harrisburg Township high school chorus last evening presented two light operettas entitled "Sunday Excursion" and "The Lowland Sea," in the Bonnell gymnasium.

"Sunday Excursion" took place on a railroad car on the New Haven Line and its cast included Barbara Dunn, Dorothy Schneider, Oren Ray Brown, Dick Fritts and Carroll Clark.

In "The Lowland Sea" were Dorie David, portrayed by Dorothy Hanning; Johnny Dee, Fred Kinnaman; Captain Jesse, David Burnham; Nathaniel Hazard, Dick Applegate; Amos, Larry Landers; Hannah, Barbara Dunn; and Nathaniel's children, Abraham, Jerry Lauderdale, Delight, Judy Whiteside, and Patience, Judy Hicks.

These two modern operas, designed primarily for amateur groups, made use of only few stage furnishings. A table, a bench and four chairs made up the list. Changes of time, place and condition were merely suggested by lights off and on.

Background music was furnished by the chorus and piano accompaniment was played by the director, John Schork.

Taken to State Farm

Ernest Bryant of Harrisburg was taken this morning to the state farm at Vandalia to serve a one-year term for violation of his probation. Bryant, on probation, was charged a few days ago with petit larceny. He was taken to Vandalia by Sheriff William T. Barrett and Deputy Everett N. Sneed.

Robert Christopher Tells Of Trip Around World

Delhi from where he visited the Himalaya mountains on the border of Tibet and saw one of the world's most beautiful sights—the Taj Mahal by moonlight.

On his arrival at Calcutta he had only $14 left of his money and finally contacted a Siamese airline which flew him 4,000 miles to Tokyo for the cost of some colored films to use for publicity. He had $6.50 on his arrival at Tokyo, but he had received much publicity. By working on a ship he crossed the north Pacific and arrived at San Francisco with $4.58. His first ride from San Francisco took him to Ames, Iowa, and from there he found rides until he arrived in Manhattan and finished the trip to his home with a 60 cent taxi ride.

In all his travels, Mr. Christopher stated, he learned that basically the people all over the world, in spite of the differences in languages, customs and religions, are friendly with strangers.

"It is a wonderful hope for the world," he said, "that the man on the street is basically the same everywhere."

Plans More Trips

Mr. Christopher is still a world traveler and will leave on April 14 for a trip to the Orient. Next year, he will guide a tour of 18 persons on a round-the-world trip.

Bruce Burnett, former president of the club, was in charge of the meeting in the absence of the president, Hudson Muggie, who is ill. The speaker was introduced by Judge L. M. Hancock and invocation was given by Mrs. N. A. Thompson of Eldorado.

The next meeting of the dinner club will be on March 24 at which time Ed Harding, a humorist, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Gertrude Mitsdarffer Speaks To Los Angeles Club

Recent editions of the Los Angeles TIMES and the HERALD & EXPRESS mention the appearance of Mrs. Gertrude Gaskins Mitsdarffer at a gathering of the Los Angeles branch of National League of American Penwomen.

Mrs. Mitsdarffer spoke on some of her adventures in hunting big game, and of her travels to Europe and other places. Residents of Harrisburg, her home city, will recall with pleasure the unique method she used in telling of her travels over the European continent by illustrating her discussion with quick changes of hats representing the various countries visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitsdarffer are spending the winter in Santa Monica. Ordinarily they spend winter months in Harrisburg attending to business affairs, but these duties are being attended to this winter by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Andersen of Estes Park, Colo., who are in temporary residence at the Harrisburg Motor Hotel.

"The Curious Savage" is a comedy in three acts and was written by John Patrick.

Ulysses S. Grant, Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis served as fellow officers in the Mexican War.

Select Cast For Senior Play

The cast for the Senior play, "The Curious Savage," to be presented at the Harrisburg Township high school the first of April, was recently selected by Mrs. Lolo Eddy, HTHS speech director.

Eleven senior students will be featured in the play and will dramatize the following parts: Mrs. Savage, Judy Belt; other members in her family—Titus, Richard Baldwin; Samuel, Richard Applegate; and Lily Belle, Mona Wickham. Guests at "The Cloisters," which is a home for the insane, are Florence, Mona Azar; Hannibal, Oren Brown; Fairly May, Judy Morse; Jeffrey, Carroll Clark; and Mrs. Paddy, Barbara Dunn. The staff at "The Cloisters" consists of Dr. Emmett, Jean Abney, and Miss Wilhelmina, Mona Healy.

"The Curious Savage" is a comedy in three acts and was written by John Patrick.

Administration Expects Senate To Kill Tax Cut

Leaders Predict Democrats Will Support Opposition

By United Press

Administration leaders predicted today they will pick up enough Democratic support in the Senate to kill the House-approved $20 per person cut in income taxes.

The tax reduction may suffer its first setback in the Senate Finance Committee where both Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) and the ranking GOP member Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo.) oppose it.

But since it can be proposed from the floor as an amendment to the administration bill to extend corporation and excise taxes, the full Senate still will get a chance to act on the income tax slash.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said chances are "reasonably good" of defeating the reduction. The Senate Democratic leadership has not yet indicated whether it will press as strongly for the bill as did House leaders.

In an almost straight Democratic-versus-Republican vote, the House approved the tax cut 210 to 205. The debate was heated and partisan with Republicans accusing Democrats of trying to "buy votes" for 1956 with the tax bill.

President Eisenhower, who has said the Treasury cannot stand the loss of some 2 billion dollars annually in income taxes expressed keen disappointment at House approval of the tax cut. But he pinned his hope on the Senate.

"I know there are some Democrats in the Senate who don't want any part of it," he said.

Other congressional news:

Pay: The Senate rejected 62-7 a compromise bill to give congressmen a $7,500-a-year pay raise, a $1,250 tax-free expense allowance and five extra free round trips home. Senate objections were raised to the expense allowance feature. The compromise bill, already approved by the House, now goes back to a House-Senate conference committee.

Housing: The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill authorizing the Federal Housing Administration to insure an additional 1,120 billion dollars in home mortgages. The increase is to tide the agency over until July 1.

Harlan: The Senate Judiciary Committee has ended its hearings on the nomination of Judge John Marshall Harlan of New York to the Supreme Court, but will not vote on the nomination before Tuesday.

To Sunday Matron at Harrisburg Woman's Club

The Harrisburg Woman's club will be honored Monday with the presence as a guest speaker at a program by the American Home department of Mrs. George (Ella K.) Moseley, Metropolis, 1954 Illinois Mother of the Year.

Mrs. L. N. Davenport, Harrisburg, is program chairman, and the special music will be by Mrs. Pat Sullivan. Mrs. J. A. Musgrave, who conducts the Baptist Hour on WEBQ, will give the devotion.

Hostesses are Mrs. P. J. Frankenstein, Mrs. Walter Unsell, Mrs. F. G. Burnett, and Mrs. W. E. Pankey.

Mrs. J. L. Miller, club president, urges members to join in a cordial welcome to the special guest and will have news of importance about the March 10th district board meeting to be held in Harrisburg.

Immediately following the program there will be a tea in honor of Mrs. Moseley. Members and guests are invited and expected to remain.

Students Elect Candidates

Senior class students in the various schools select three candidates for the award, and one is picked from the three by the faculty members. In choosing a girl the following is considered: dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. The aim of this project is to build youthful character and to call attention to those qualities which are desirable in good citizens.

Names of the girls will be submitted to the state D. A. R. organization where they will remain on file for the drawing March 22 to select the state winner.

Report Britain to Test H-Bomb in Antarctic Area

LONDON T.P.—The Daily Sketch said today Britain will test its first hydrogen bomb in the Antarctic. British officials refused to comment on the report.

"Plans are going ahead to find a suitable site," the Daily Sketch said. "When it is found British warships and planes will speed to the area to rescue it from Argentina and other expeditions in the area."

The Sketch said the House of Commons will be told next week of Britain's progress toward the H-bomb, which was first disclosed weeks before last.

It said the "heavy guard that will be put around the Antarctic site will recall the recent disputes with Argentina and Chile over the British Falkland Islands."

U. S. to Return Seven Fishermen To Chinese Reds

WASHINGTON T.P.—The United States plans to return seven Chinese in what is considered a bid China in what is considered a bid for Chinese release of 15 imprisoned American airmen.

The United States relayed word of its decision to U. S. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold who has been negotiating with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai for release of the Americans.

Hammarskjold was said to hope the move will soften Red China's previous refusal to release the airmen.

The minimum would apply to producers with government contracts of more than $10,000.

Lewis, president of the UMW, charged that TVA had used "the vast influence of its heavy purchases of coal to beat down small isolated coal producing units to a starvation wage."

Fahey said Lewis' charge was completely false. Under the law, he said, TVA has to buy coal on a competitive bid basis and to award its contracts to the lowest bidder.

He said the agency has no information as to whether its coal suppliers are unionized or not.

Cut Corn Costs,
Increase Yields
With Fertilizer

CHICAGO — Costs of growing corn can be cut as much as 26 cents per bushel, yields per acre can be more than doubled and profits boosted nearly three and a half times by good farming practices, including the use of fertilizer.

That was the statement of the Middle West Soil Improvement committee, based on recent studies by University of Missouri soils specialists.

The Missouri studies showed that the production cost averaged 58 cents per bushel for corn on fertilized fields, compared to 84 cents on unfertilized fields.

Yields on fertilized fields averaged 80 bushels per acre, as against 55 bushels on unfertilized fields.

Net profit was $65.60 per acre for the fertilized corn compared to $19.75 for the unfertilized corn.

Dr. G. B. Smith, University of Missouri agronomist, estimated that it cost $29.25 per acre to grow corn when no fertilizer was added. This fixed cost included seed, tillage, cultivation, harvesting and other items.

On fertilized fields the overall production cost averaged $46.40 per acre. This included a fixed cost of $31.50, plus a fertilized cost of $14.90 per acre. The fertilized application was based on recommendations from soil tests.

Figuring corn at $1.40 per bushel, the 80-bushel yield on the fertilized fields had a total value of $112.00 per acre. When overall production costs of $46.40 per acre were deducted, the net profit was $65.60 per acre. The crop from the unfertilized fields had a total value of $49.00 per acre, leaving a net of $19.75 after costs were deducted.

By Albert Meyer

The farmer who wants a better chance to make ends meet from poultry in 1955 should be starting chicks for his laying flock now, says Scott Hinners, poultry specialist at Southern Illinois University.

Profits are more likely for the farmer who has his new laying flock in full production by the time egg prices are best. In recent years the egg market usually has begun strengthening in late June or during July and the period from mid-August to mid-October has had relatively stable high prices for good quality eggs.

It was low generally throughout 1954, but Hinners believes that the 1955 price outlook will be for prices comparing favorably with the more normal years of 1953 and 1954.

Competition and poultry improvement through breeding has had an important place in changing the egg production trend in the last generation. Farmers, therefore, are making an effort to start chicks earlier so that the new flocks will be in production when the egg market is higher.

A midwest study showed this need, revealing that laying flocks started before April 1 returned 39¢ per hundred birds while those started after May actually cost the grower 8¢ per hundred for the fun of raising and keeping them.

Hinners says that for farmers to make good profits from laying flocks the chicken must be capable of averaging more than 200 eggs per bird housed. This means that the chickens must mature early, produce eggs persistently and intensely, and not tend toward broodiness or a prolonged pause.

The flock owner needs to have over 65 percent production during the year if the birds are to average 200 eggs annually. Culling may assure the percentage easily, he says, but it is more profitable to improve the flock by breeding in order to reduce the number of hens removed during culling. Birds removed as culls cannot produce profits.

Irrigation Aids Vegetable Yields In SIU Testing

Supplementary irrigation increased vegetable production two or three times in Southern Illinois University tests during 1953 and 1954. William T. Andrew, SIU vegetable specialist, reports.

Only half as much rain fell during the months May to September in 1953 as in 1954, so differences were more pronounced in 1953 than in the past season, Andrew says. During the first year, water was applied when the plots looked dry, the soil was soaked to a depth of five inches. Last summer a moisture meter was used and plots were irrigated when the moisture level was 50 percent of field capacity.

Andrew found:

Irrigated tomato plots in 1953 produced 318 pounds as compared to 108 pounds on unirrigated check plots. Tomato irrigated plants averaged four-tenths of an ounce heavier. In 1954 the irrigated plots averaged 65 pounds, the unirrigated plots, 34. The average weight of fruit increased one ounce.

Cucumber yields in 1953 increased from 54 pounds on unirrigated plots to 150 pounds on those receiving added water. Sweet corn yields jumped from 42 ears to 109. Ear lengths were one-half inch greater on corn receiving supplementary irrigation. Neither was used in irrigation tests last summer.

Green peppers were included in 1954 tests. Yields went up from seven pounds to 18 pounds per plot by irrigating. A fall crop of green beans on irrigated plots yielded 22.1 pounds as compared to 2.3 pounds on check plots. Because the soil was moist the stand of plants was much better on irrigated plots after planting in August, Andrew points out.

More Lice and Mange On Hogs in Winter

URBANA — Look for lice or your hogs, suggests Dr. C. C. Morrill of the College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Illinois.

Colder weather of the last few weeks has encouraged hogs to crowd together to keep warm. Crowding helps both lice and mange mites to spread from one pig to another, Dr. Morrill says.

Hogs with either of these parasites will eat more feed for each pound of gain, and their gains will be slower. You stand to lose either way.

Control of lice and mange is neither difficult nor expensive, according to Dr. Morrill. If the weather is warm, spray the animals thoroughly with lindane.

In cold weather you can use a lindane dust if you are careful to do a thorough job. Lice are commonly found on the belly, flanks and inside the thigh, where they may be missed by a careless job of dusting.

Silo Is Insurance Against Soil Loss

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — A Kansas State College agronomist says silos are one of the best devices to prevent soil-blowing in the plains area.

Frank Bieberly, the expert, explained:

If farmers have good feed supplies, they are not forced to overgraze the vegetative cover that protects their soil from blowing.

The Kansas agricultural experiment station reports that ensilage will keep indefinitely and still be nutritious and palatable to live stock.

The information is important now because of the ravages of drought in the nation's "bread basket." Kansas and some nearby states had the driest November in recorded weather history — and this after two years of intermittent drought.

Bieberly believes that soil-blowing will be greatly reduced when all Midwest farmers learn how well ensilage will keep and start storing feed from the good years to be used during slim crop years.

Dr. Roy W. Harrell, former Norris City physician, died

Dr. Roy W. Harrell, 63, who for many years was a practicing physician in Norris City, died at his home in St. Louis, Mo., Thursday at 9 p. m.

Mr. Harrell was also a member of the medical staff at the Veterans hospital in Marion.

The body is now at the Kittinger funeral home in Carmi where the funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. Rev. C. E. Hedges of Norris City will officiate, and burial will be in the Ebenezer cemetery.

Gilbert Church Rites Sunday

Funeral services for Gilbert Church, Carmi resident who died suddenly yesterday morning while helping lay an oil line in Eldorado, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Brush Arbor church east of McLeansboro. Rev. Ralph Upton will officiate, and burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery at McLeansboro.

The hollow stems of cereal crops resist packing, so chop oats in short lengths and let the silage set awhile before packing.

Higher moisture content in the leaves than in the stems presents a drying problem. Usually the best time to harvest, according to Neumann, is when the oat grains are in the doughy stage. Staggering seeding dates or seeding varieties of different maturity dates will also help.

More than 50,000 World War II tanks and trucks furnished to NATO nations by the United States have been rebuilt by Germans working for the U. S. Army in Europe.

Build Up Over-all Soil Fertility for Best Results

CHICAGO — Farmers who depend entirely on row fertilization to feed their crops in a given year are trying to outguess the weather, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in citing a recent statement by H. P. Mederski, Ohio State University agronomist.

Medicski says that the best method is to build up the soil's overall fertility level and not put all the emphasis on row fertilization.

This pays in two ways, he says: 1—A farmer can get set for the good years when all other factors than soil fertility are just right to give top yields; 2—high soil fertility gives more profitable response in years of short moisture or other adverse conditions.

Building soil fertility does not mean cutting down on the amount of fertilizer a farmer uses, according to Mederski. It merely means shifting the emphasis on fertilizer application from the job of putting it in the row to the more convenient use on sod crops, broadcasting and plowing down and other suitable places in the sequence of crops.

More fertilizer is used in the summer and fall and less may be used at seeding time in the spring. This may mean cutting row fertilization down to about 150 pounds per acre, and increasing the amount of plant food that goes to build up the general fertility level.

In this way, farmers can help eliminate fertility as a limiting factor in crop production.

Farmers probably will keep on using row fertilizers, but Mederski figures that more of the crop yield will come from building our over-all fertility levels higher and higher, and less will come from row fertilization.

Pig Brooders Prevent Chilling And Save Lives

If you're expecting your sows to farrow before warm weather, you'll be wise to invest in a pig brooder, says R. M. Peart, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois.

Peart says a 250-watt lamp with reflector unit not only prevents chilling, but also lessens the danger that the sow will crush her young if the brooder is placed above a protective barrier.

You can buy either a soft glass white lamp for about a dollar or hard glass red Pyrex lamp for about $2.50. There is no difference in heat from the two.

One company has a new brooder-type lamp that is said to distribute heat more evenly.

A metal reflector unit is an invaluable companion to the lamp. The reflector protects the lamp from breakage and may prevent a disastrous fire. A hoop on the bottom prevents a hot lamp from igniting straw if the unit should fall.

Besides the hoop, a good reflector should have a porcelain socket, heavy-duty cord and hanger.

Mount the brooder 18 inches above the pigs if you have it in a corner away from the sow. Make sure it's out of the sow's reach if it's in the middle of the stall or house, Peart advises.

If your sows farrow in portable houses, be careful to use safe electrical wiring.

Have brooders ready before farrowing time. Use them 7 to 10 days. Accustom little pigs to doing without heat before turning them outside.

If you'd like more complete information on brooders, Peart says you can get a free leaflet, "Safe Heat Lamp Brooding," from the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Urbana.

3,200,575 in Armed Services

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The size of the armed services jumped to 3,200,575 in January as the result of an enlistment boom touched off by President Eisenhower's order to end GI wartime benefits.

The new total represented a rise of 19,978 over the previous month.

Defense Department officials said the combined military forces took in 116,102 men in January, including 68,103 volunteers, 23,896 draftees and 24,101 reenlistments.

Burglars Enter Eldorado Legion

Burglars took approximately $300 in cash from the American Legion home in Eldorado during the night, it was reported by county officers.

Deputy Sheriffs Everett N. Sneed and James S. Lyon investigated the burglary this morning. They reported that a door leading into the elevator had been left unbolted and entrance was made through it into the building.

Gilbert Church Rites Sunday

Funeral services for Gilbert Church, Carmi resident who died suddenly yesterday morning while helping lay an oil line in Eldorado, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Brush Arbor church east of McLeansboro. Rev. Ralph Upton will officiate, and burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery at McLeansboro.

The body now lies in state at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Evans Braden, in Carmi.

Kilkenney, has on his list. The one selected is a tab on Alice Cummings, who bought a cheap fur coat and skipped. Her last address was the Chesterton Hotel.

The doorman stood outside the hotel, sneaking a quiet smoke. He would take a quick puff or two, then palm the cigarette as he held it behind his back.

Johnny stepped up to him. "Mister," he said, "I've come to New York from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to find my sister who ran away from home five years ago, come Canfield Days."

"I'll bet," said the doorman. "Her name," Johnny went on, "was Alice Cummings and this was the last address we had of her."

"Alice Cummings," mused the doorman. "Yeah, sure, I remember her. A good-looking babe—" "Naturally."

Locals Will Wind Up Regular Season Tonight Against Johnston City

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, who led most of the time the first three quarters, dropped a 58-51 tilt to West Frankfort here last night in the final South Seven basketball contest of the season for the locals.

Harrisburg, which finished the season with 2-10 in the loop, winds up the regular season tonight at Davenport gym, playing a non-league encounter with Johnston City. Next week the regional tourney begins.

Last night's contest was not a good exhibition of basketball by either team. The Bull Dogs, if they had not made so many mistakes the first half, would have been away to commanding lead. The locals put up a pretty good defense against the Birds, but muffed a lot of opportunities themselves.

Score 24-20 at Half

Harrisburg last night shot 29 per cent from the field to 32 per cent for the opposition and that just about tells the story.

Don Price, who was the best all-around man on the floor last night, shot a basket from near the middle of the floor in the last seconds of the first quarter to give the locals a tie, 10-10, at the end of the game, 57-46.

Wayne Stone was high for Harrisburg with 15. Bryan Jones had 10, Bill Henshaw 7, John Ziegler 6, and Bennie Fulker and Bill Bottomley 4 each. Ray Hassett, Jim Cummins and Charles Cummings also saw action.

Bluford Beats Thompsonsville To Win District

Bluford gained the right to play Johnston City in the Christopher regional tournament next week by overpowering Thompsonville in the finals of the Waltonville district meet last night, 77-55.

Coach Bob Munday's young Thompsonville crew led the tourney favorites throughout the first half but tired noticeably in the second. Ahead 15-6 at the quarter, the Tigers began to slip in the second period. They maintained a 28-21 edge at the intermission.

With Hiatt spearheading the last half drive, Bluford out-scored the Tigers 30-8 in the third and 26-19 in the fourth. Hiatt's 34-point performance was the high individual showing of the tourney.

Thompsonville hit 18 of 47 attempts from the field for a .380. In closing out their season, the Tigers posted a record of 16 victories, 11 defeats.

Bluford will face Johnston City in the second game next Tuesday.

THOMPSONVILLE — Doss S. Carlile 12, Lemmon 10, Hodges 12, Isaac 7, Marsh 4, Snyder 0, Gregory 2, Johnson 0, Knight 0. BLUE FORD — Wilson 10, Williams 4, L. Wilson 13, Sauls 1, Hatt 34, Irwin 18.

Given little chance on the pre-tourney chart, the Panthers turned back Crossville and Equality co-favorites to take the title, to surprise many.

Mills Prairie Wins Preliminary

In the first half the visiting club hit sensational 15 of 29 from the field, while Eldorado was scoring a more than satisfactory 14 of 34.

Although both clubs cooled off in their shooting percentages the final two quarters, the tempo of the game remained high as both teams were in the mood to run and shoot.

The final difference was at the free throw lane. Each team hit 26 field goals and Eldorado had 24 free tosses to 20 for the visitors.

Barfords of Mills Prairie was the game's high point maker with 23 markers and Whittier and Lovellette tied for Eldorado scoring nonors with 20 each.

Mills Prairie won the preliminary game 41-38.

In Memoriam

In memory of our husband and father, James Riley, who died two years ago, Feb. 26, 1953.

Often a lonely heart aches.

There's many a silent tear.

But always a beautiful memory.

Of the one we loved so dear.

He was always so true, unselfish, and kind.

Few in this world his equal you will find.

A beautiful life that came to an end.

He died as he lived, everyone's friend.

Mrs. James Riley and children
